

Dr. Thomas S. Crawford was born in Germany on an Air Force base as the fourth son of two wonderful and adventurous parents. As a military brat his family moved every two years so he has lived in many US states and several continents. Dr. Crawford's undergraduate work was in chemistry at LSU in both Baton Rouge, LA and Shreveport, LA. His doctorate was earned in Kansas City, MO and post-graduate doctorate in chiropractic neurology was earned through courses attended across the United States. He worked in solo practice for a year before buying a second practice that he shared patients with a medical doctor. After selling these practices, he moved to south Louisiana where he managed 5 clinics before partnering with an MD to operate three clinics in Lake Charles, Lafayette, and Baton Rouge. After Hurricane Rita, Dr. Crawford decided to pull up stakes and travel for a while which lead him to many places. Through contacts he had in Odessa, Texas, he decided to devote the rest of his career to giving back to students some of the wonderful education he had received. He has never regretted this decision. Dr. Crawford has helped train many RN, LVN, PA, Rad-Tech, dental hygienist and a few in medical school during his years at OC. He says it has been a wonderful experience that gets better with each semester!
