COURSE REQUIREMENTS (Lectures, Assignments and Assessments):

LECTURE: Lecture is web based only. It is divided into modules. Each module will have set of objectives, assignments & quizzes. Make sure to check the calendar for due dates.

QUIZZES: Multiple choice questions. Must be completed individually. No makeup quizzes will be given. Ample time will be given to take quizzes. See calendar for dates and times.

You can call or email me if you would like to review your quiz. We will set up a time to meet. You only have one week to review your quiz.

LABORATORY COMPONENT:

The laboratory component is designed to give each student the opportunity to practice the data collection methods, assessment techniques and skills, and the documentation procedures that are taught in the didactic portion of the course. You will need to bring shorts and a halter top or T-shirt for assessments. All students will dress in hospital gowns for assessments.

Punctual lab attendance is mandatory and essential for success in this course. On-site laboratory attendance policy for the assessment class will follow the same guidelines listed in the college catalog. This policy states that any student who misses as much as 20 percent of scheduled class time in any semester should review his or her standing in the class with the instructor and determine whether to continue in class or withdraw. The ability to meet course objectives may be seriously jeopardized for students missing more than 1 day of laboratory instruction. The student needs to obtain a physician's excuse for the absence (or other pertinent documentation). Call instructor immediately when conflict arises.

This laboratory component is graded Pass/Fail basis (see calendar for lab dates). You will need to print out provided worksheets to guide that day's laboratory learning experience. Completed and turned in lab worksheets will receive a Pass for that lab day. Lab worksheets that are not filled out completely will receive a Failed and must be corrected and resubmitted. You must turn in all of the COMPLETED worksheets in order to pass the course.

Instructors will be circulating in the room in order to monitor the assessments and to offer suggestions and/or corrections wherever required. Students will use a different partner for each of the assessments. Failure to do each of these practice assessments will result in a Failure for the course. The practice assessments MUST be performed during laboratory time with laboratory instructors present. Students are encouraged to utilize opportunities to practice skills and/or ask questions.

Each student will also be required to complete one practice complete head to toe assessment and write up prior to the final check-off (See calendar).

You and a student partner will sign-up for the final assessment check-off after the practice complete head to toe assessment. Rescheduling is not available due to limited time and space for final check-offs. You must have a stethoscope and penlight. You must print and give the instructor your Final evaluation forms for the check-off and the written portion before you begin.

You will be allowed to use a cue sheet (will be provided) during your final assessment check-off. You may not read the sheets. They are to be used for reference only. Failure to use for reference only will result in a lower grade.

FINALEXAM: Multiple choice questions. See calendar for dates.

HEAD TO TOE Demonstration: Must pass with 80%. One attempt allowed.

DEMO WRITE-UP: Must pass with 80%. One attempt allowed

COURSE POLICIES:

Students will be using other students for their lab partners and this will involve some touching of each other. No student will remove his or her clothes at any time.

If you are enrolled in the first semester of the nursing program, this course must be successfully completed for progression to second semester.

Students are responsible for all material presented or assigned in this course.

If a student decides to withdraw from a class, he or she must comply with the deadlines published in the college's calendar. Withdrawal from the course will be the responsibility of the student.

TEACHING/LEARNING METHODS: The following methods may be incorporated into RNSG1215: Demonstration and practice return demonstration, audio-visual aids, technological instructional modalities, reading assignments, and other written assignments
