About Your Instructor

The 2013-14 school year will be my 5th year teaching here at Odessa College. I teach a variety of face-to-face and online courses in many different levels of English. I look forward to another great year and I am glad that you have joined my class(es) here at Odessa College. Be sure to let me know how I may help you during your experience here at OC.

Preferred Method of Communication:

The best way to reach me is email since I am normally on my computer the biggest majority of the time. If you wish to call and leave a voice-mail message with your name, the time you called, your number, which class you are in, and a brief message - I will return your call as soon as possible. Please note the posted office hours when I am available for your visit or calls. To avoid missing me (I am often involved with other meetings around campus - sometimes during posted office hours) please email or call to set up a meeting time. Appointments are guaranteed my time and undivided attention. If you just show up for a meeting, someone might be there before you, or I may be in a meeting or training session. Therefore, appointments are your best alternative to "catch" me.

Expectations for Engagement for Instructor:

As an instructor, I understand the importance of clear, timely communication with my students. In order to maintain sufficient communication, I will

- provide my contact information at the beginning of the syllabus;
- respond to all messages within 24 hours if received Monday through Thursday, and within 48 hours if received Friday through Sunday; and,
- notify students of any extended times that I will be unavailable and provide them with alternative contact information (for me or for my supervisor) in case of during the time I am unavailable.

As an instructor, I understand that my students will work to the best of their abilities to fulfill the course requirements. In order to help them in this area, I will

- provide clear information about grading policies and assignment requirements in the course syllabus, and
- communicate any changes to assignments and/or to the course calendar to students as quickly as possible.

As an instructor, I understand that I need to provide regular, timely feedback to students about their performance in the course. To keep students informed about their progress, I will

- post grades for discussion postings within one week of the discussion thread closing.
- provide grades for major assignments within 2 weeks of the due date or at least 3 days before the next major assignment is due, whichever comes first.

Textbook Information

Textbook:

For my class, there is no required textbook this semester. You will need a method of saving your work on a flash drive or approved disk for the lab/class.

Please Note: Next semester all 0370, 1301 and 1302 courses in the department will require the Quick Access Reference for Writers, 7th ed., so if you want a good reference and be ahead of the game for 1301 - go ahead and pick it up now.

Computer Access:

You will need to have access to a computer for this class. All essay assignments must be computer generated. You will be expected to use a word processor, print and submit copies in hard copy (or through Blackboard if so instructed). Instructions and materials including some assignments may also be posted through Blackboard. Some online discussions may also be used through Blackboard as part of your participation in this course. If you do not own a computer, you will still need to access a computer and printer either through one of the labs or the Learning Resource Center on campus. No computer or having computer trouble will not be an excused reason for turning in items late, since there is access to computers in the Student Learning Center and library. Plan ahead.

A copy of the student's orders must be presented to the Registrar's Office at the time of the withdrawal. For details, please contact the Office of the Registrar. No longer attending class does not automatically constitute withdrawal from that class, nor does a student's notification to an instructor that the student wishes to be dropped.
